

Joe Lobo

“The second you think you’ve arrived, someone passes you. You have to be in pursuit.”

Joe Lobo founded JML Optical Industries. It was operated in the garage in Joe’s Backyard at his house. JML has 85 employees, and is located on 820 Linden Avenue, Rochester NY 14625-2710. JML Optics offers an arrange of items ranging from custom design services, or thin film coatings. At JML Optics, privacy is the best policy, and privately owned. JML was founded in 1972 and the corporate building is over 110,000 sq. ft. “The second you think you’ve arrived, someone passes you. You have to be in pursuit”. This quote is relevant to Joe because every time you are successful or maybe the first on the leader boards, someone will always pass you. But you need to keep chasing after them for the number one spot.
